

Synthetic rubber production down 11% in April synthetic rubber production fell by 11% to 8,285 tonnes in April this year, while consumption declined by 5% to 35,150 tonnes during the period, latest Rubber Board data said. In April 2011, rubber production stood at 9,262 tonnes, while consumption of the commodity was 36,890 tonnes.