

BBMP Efforts Going Up in Smoke

While the BBMP is trying to clean up 'black spots' in the city, fearing more reprimands from the high court, garbage is burnt with least regard for solid waste management rules on a piece of vacant land near the Cantonment Railway Station. The burning heap containing rubber and plastic material, sent clouds of black smoke into the skyline over Central Bengaluru on Monday.

N NARASIMHA
MURTHY