

Govt plans quality control measures for rubber, cement

New Delhi: The government aims to implement quality control measures for the light engineering, rubber, cement and concrete building materials industry by next year, a government source said.

“Drawing from the example of measures taken for the toy industry, better standards helped comply with international standards. The industry then saw exporting opportunities and now they are exporting,” the source said.

REUTERS